

Property Styling

Get the SOLD sign out sooner

Most people make their first impressions within the first six seconds...

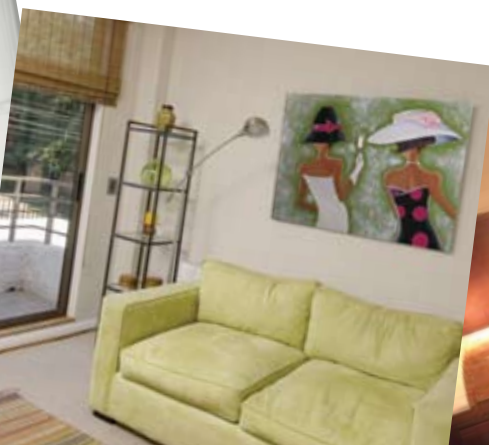

If location, location, location is the key to buying property, then presentation, presentation, presentation is the key to selling it.

"For under $500 Go Arty offered us affordable expert advice and assistance in how to achieve maximum cosmetic appeal. We used their rental service on items such as interior art and homewares."
Corey and Amber James. Warana.

Why you need us:

- Property Styling modernises and freshens up the look and feel of your house using fashionable interior art and homewares.
- Styling a property translates to better photos, a higher number of viewings, more offers and your property sold.

Before

After

Only about 10 per cent of buyers can see the potential of prospective property. The rest can only see what lies before their eyes, which is why most staged properties command a better price and are sold or leased faster than non-staged properties and empty spaces.

"Working with Go Arty has been both rewarding and pleasurable. When I stumbled upon their products, I instantly knew that Wanda had the flair for something different. She can work with any colour palate and has the diversity to adapt to any design feature.

Go Arty's designs have been featured in many of our spec homes for sale and have assisted greatly in the presentation of our product. Their work has given our clients a realistic visual of how our homes function, taking the product from a house and creating a home..."
